

Table of Contents

- | First National Taylor's has an exceptional offer for you
- | How we propose to support you
- | Why First National Real Estate?

First National Taylor s has an exceptional offer for you

First National Taylor's is currently seeking the area's leading, most ethical agents and we have specifically identified you as an agent we'd like to talk to.

As an indication of good faith, we'd like to start by outlining the profit-share arrangement we will be discussing with our selected candidates. We're building an agency that appeals to high-performing agents who are also seeking work-life balance, which is much more than a simple commission split.

Our salary model is designed to provide you the ability to earn a good income, befitting your performance and energy levels, but you'll also benefit from a passive income stream by way of a share in overall company profits, providing you achieve realistic base performance criteria.

This, in effect, alleviates the pressure sales agents frequently feel when their income is geared solely to their own performance. Your passive income stream will substitute any loss of income, which tends to occur when you try to achieve a better work and life balance.

How we propose to support you

First National Taylors will offer you:

- A share in office sales generated leads, unencumbered (No office referral fee)
- A share in the office's rental department sales generated leads, unencumbered
- The chance to market yourself to a designated BDA and enjoy the right to benefit from office leads in that area
- The chance to benefit from our office's high profile location of 35+ years
- A friendly and professional office environment
- The chance to participate in First National's industry-leading, regular training sessions

Enjoy a regular income & a better work-life balance. You choose - work from home, office, or a mix of both.

If you'd like to chat, let's arrange a coffee.

Please call Paul Taylor for a confidential discussion on 0408 803 802.

Why First National Real Estate?

Good question!

First National Real Estate is Australia's leading real estate brand, with the best of support for its agents.

Dive into all the detail about our network here.

Why First National Brochure

